

Marcelle Thomas is a senior journalist for the Stabroek News since 2011. She reports mainly on politics, governance, business and energy. Since oil discovery in Guyana in 2015, she is responsible for work on the oil and gas sector. She was the recipient of the United States International Visitor Leadership Program (IVLP) exchange program in 2017, on Investigative Journalism. An animal lover, she also reports on animal issues.